

Thinking Globally.....Acting Locally

Health & Safety, Quality & Environment Advisor

Western Stevedoring is the operator of Lynnterm, North Vancouver and Squamish Terminals, Squamish, BC and is the most diversified stevedoring contractor in British Columbia. Western also provides terminal and stevedoring services to the break-bulk trade on Vancouver Island and cruise ship services at Ogden Point, Victoria.

Western is an industry leader in protecting our environment and ensuring the health and safety of employees, customers and the public. We are expanding our HSQE team to further support our terminal and stevedoring operations throughout British Columbia.

Candidates for the Health and Safety Advisor position will possess 5+ years operations experience specializing in the consistent delivery of comprehensive health and safety programs. Thorough knowledge of WCB claims management, Canada Labour Code (including COHS and MOHS) and safe work practises is required for success in this role. Experience supporting ISO certified safety, quality and environment programs is an asset in addition to a Certification in Occupational Health & Safety. Candidates must be eligible to attain Marine Transportation Security Clearance (MTSC) to be considered for the position.

The successful applicant will be offered competitive compensation as well as opportunities for personal and career development. To apply, please email your resume and cover letter to hr@westeve.com. For more information on Western's operations, please visit www.westeve.com.

Western Stevedoring is an equal opportunity employer.